

Terms and Conditions of Enrolment NLP Master Practitioner Course (and component modules)

Please read carefully:

1. Purpose of course

The NLP Master Practitioner Course is not a substitute for psychotherapy. While you may achieve major shifts and breakthroughs, the course is designed primarily to impart advanced NLP skills to students who are already in reasonable psychological health — students with diagnosed psychological conditions or major unresolved issues may find the course too challenging. Please notify us of any diagnosed psychological problems, unresolved issues or medication that you are on before enrolling for the course so that we can determine whether this is the right course for you.

2. Certification as an NLP Master Practitioner

Participants are expected to commit themselves to attend the whole of the course. A total of five qualifying modules (120 hours training in all over 19 days) is required to be eligible for Master Practitioner certification. Assessment is continuous through practical exercises and through completion of a supervised modelling project. Your certification is conditional on achieving standards (in the professional judgment of the certifying trainers).

3. Special requirements

Please let us know of any special requirements (e.g. disabilities) which we need to know about to enable us to provide you with the best possible experience. Unfortunately our main venue does not yet have wheelchair access.

4. Guarantee

If for any reason you are not satisfied with the course, we will refund your payment (less £200 to cover materials and administration) on request.

5. Desired outcomes for the course
